

Preview: The Expendables take on Showbox Market

Trot on down to Showbox Market on Wednesday night to see The Expendables stop by our beloved city. They are in the home stretch of their current tour and hopefully they will feel almost at home in Seattle as they do in their hometown of Santa Cruz, California (it's right on the water too). The group, which has played with the Vans Warped Tour and performed with reggae legend Eek-A-Mouse, brings its own blend of genre-mixing of music. That signature combination of reggae, punk and a dash of metal comes through on The Expendables' fifth album, Prove It.

Opening up is John Brown's Body and C-Money & The Players Inc. They will get you warmed up with their own mellow blend of hip-hop and reggae. If you're up in the air about reggae as a whole, give this a try, you may find yourself enjoying yourself more than you thought you would.

The Expendables promo photo by The Expendables

Wednesday, 8 p.m. // Showbox Market // $18 // All Ages